

4-H Club Community Service Learning Project Report for 2018-2019

One of the main focus areas in the 4-H program is to plan and complete specific projects to improve our communities. The Community Service Learning Project encourages communication between club members and teaches responsibility, compassion, organizational and collaborative skills to all involved. By gathering ideas from local agencies, our community, parents, leaders, and club members, 4-H clubs not only meet community needs, but provide opportunities for young people to apply 4-H project skills and knowledge in real life situations in their own communities. The service learning portion provides education and personal growth, active citizenship, workforce preparation, and certainly fosters a sense of caring for others and our surroundings.

Each 4-H Club in Idaho is required to commit to at least one Community Service Learning Project per 4-H year. Please record your 4-H Club Community Service Learning Project below and return this report to the Gem County Extension Office as your projects are completed. Please use a separate form for each community service project performed. Please call (208) 365-6363 with any questions or concerns.

Name of 4-H Club: _____

Name of Person filing Report: _____

What did members do?

Why did your 4-H Club choose this project/what were the goals of the project?

When was the project done? _____

Where was the project done? _____

Number of years project has been done: _____

How many hours were spent on this service project by Youth? _____

How many hours were spent on this service project by Adults? _____

How many Youth were involved? _____ Adults? _____

How did your service project turn out? (Please share quotes or stories that we can share with the public. Feel free to use the back or attachments.)

If pictures were taken that we can share with the public and/or county commissioners, please email those to: gem@uidaho.edu.